Profile

Creative full-stack web developer with a strong background in project management and customer relations. My passion for learning about technology opened me to the world of web development. I decided to take the leap into Bitmaker to solidify my knowledge after self teaching myself. As a recent graduate of Bitmaker Web Development Immersive with experience building full-stack web apps I am now ready for new challenges and learning experiences.

Projects

SEAT YOURSELF

Ruby on Rails, HTML, CSS

- Built restaurant seating app from ground up in a team. Designed to search restaurants by city, users can then search for desired restaurants by cuisine or restaurant name. Users can then make reservations through app.

Experience
